How to order

Please feel free to try our applications before buying them. The unlicensed software is fully functional during the trial period.

When you decide to order, the following steps are required:

- Send an email to info@intoaccess.com stating:
 - The product license(s) you wish to buy, including the license type(s) (like basic, professional or ultimate), when applicable.
 - Your company name & address and for EU based companies the VAT number.
 - Any order number or other reference you like to be included on the invoice.
 - If you want to pay by bank transfer (preferred) or credit card.
- Create a system identification export file on the target computer(s). This procedure is described in detail in the application license chapter of each product manual.
- After payment can be confirmed, we will send you the license code(s).

Note that if you intend to buy more than one license, discounts apply. The discount percentage depends on a number of factors, so just let us know which licenses you need and we will make you an offer.
